

SUPERHERO FOOD BINGO

HOW TO PLAY

Equipment Required

Printable Bingo Sheets

Collector cards

Cards and Bingo sheets can be printed from superherofoodshq.org.au

How to play

- Teacher has a pack of collector cards
- Each student has a Superhero Foods bingo card (or share between 2 students)
- The teacher holds up a card to show the students and asks questions depending on the students level of understanding (see below)
- If the student answers the question correctly they receive the card and place it on their bingo sheet. When the first student to fill a row of three cards with across, down or diagonally they call out “Bingo” and they are a winner.

Basic

Name the food - E.g. Working Spud “What type of food is Working Spud?” Working Spud is a potato”

Name the food group - E.g. Working Spud “Working Spud belongs to the Vegetables Group”

Use the cards and boards together for a simple matching game for younger students

Medium

Name the Everyday Food or Superhero Food Character Name - E.g. What is this character’s name? This is Aces Apple.

Name the Everyday Food/Superhero Food Alias E.g. -What is Aces Apple’s Superhero Food Alias? (Who does Aces Apple turn into?) Aces Apple turns into Atomic Apple

Advanced

Name the super power

What are the super powers of “Aces Apple?” - protective food - antioxidants to fight illness Where can I find the food in the store?

Where can I go hunting in the store to find “Aces Apple” Fresh food section or in a tin on the shelf, possibly dried fruit on the shelf.

Tips

Print out the collector card sheets (PDF’s) from the Superhero Foods HQ on A3 size paper, in colour and laminate, so the cards are larger and easier to see.

Make up new Bingo games - e.g. spelling games - This is Sporty Banana - he is the perfect pick me up - snack on the run. Spell the word banana.
